SEDXC Dinner Thursday Night.

Dayton 2009

Have Antennas --- Will Travel

HRO Hard at work.

One of the forums on Slow Scan TV (SSTV) had a presentation by the person who started it all. Copthorne Macdonald, now VY2CM, built and started transmitting SSTV in 1957 while a student at the University of Kentucky. You can read about the beginnings of SSTV in the August and September 1958 issues of QST. These are available online at the ARRL Web Site.

Cop, as he is known, was presented with the Technical Achievement Award for his work. He now lives on Prince Edward Island. I knew Cop back in the 50s when we were both at the University of Kentucky.

Early SSTV gear. This was built by Don Miller, W9NTP, from the design by Cop.

Following are some pictures from the DX Dinner Friday night.

DX Dinner table. Comment from Ann—"This was the best food we have had at one of these dinners".

Is that guy trying to get my dessert?

There is no doubt that the SEDXC is well known in the DXing world with all the attention its members have gotten. Let's hope next year will be even "Bigger and Better".
